

SOCIETY NEWS AND CHAT.

The usual readings were concluded on Saturday afternoon by Mrs. Winslow's reading of "The Doll's House," in the elegant parlors of Mrs. Justice Fuller. A fine audience was in attendance to enjoy Mrs. Winslow's reading of this comparatively unknown author, who lifts the veil from the inner life, and exposes its limitations in a way that is almost appalling. As the name of the play indicates, the "Doll's House" is founded upon the unstable foundation of marriage as we see it in the world today. Mrs. Winslow, while reading, stood before a screen across the bay window. She wore a white gown with black lace. She has made a very deep impression upon the Washington audiences before which she has appeared. Among those present were Mrs. Carlisle, Mrs. Fuller, Mrs. Hildrup, Mrs. Nordhoff, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Jeremiah Wilson, Mrs. Burrows, Mrs. William Henry, Mrs. S. P. Browne, Mrs. Lander, Mrs. Major Bach, Mrs. Hurst, Mrs. Flower, Miss Florence Bayard, Miss Hillyer, Mrs. Squires, Mrs. Belden, of New York; Mrs. Corbitt, Mrs. McLelland, Mrs. Horatio King, Miss Emma Jeanne Wilson, Mrs. Talbot, and many others. The receipts from the two readings amounted to nearly four hundred dollars, and one-half of this sum has been kindly donated by Mrs. Winslow to the Homeopathic Hospital fund. These readings have been so enjoyable that the "Ben Hur" tableaux, being prepared by the same ladies, will no doubt be equally popular.

The marriage of Miss Orlia Jennings, of Baltimore, and Mr. Clement H. Davidson, of this city, took place at the First English Lutheran Church, Baltimore, last Tuesday evening. The bride wore a rich light-gray traveling suit, and carried a large bouquet of La France roses. Revs. Albert H. Studebaker and H. H. Weber officiated. The ushers were Dr. John G. Beck, Messrs. Albert Schneider, Charles Deelman, and John Grube. The bride belongs to one of the oldest and best known families in Baltimore. The groom is also a native of Maryland, and at present one of the head salesmen at Messrs. Galt Bros., and Co., of this city. The happy couple have apartments at 803 Twelfth street, where they will be pleased to see their many friends.

A handsome dinner to the delegates of the Argentine Republic and several Pan-American was given by Mrs. B. F. Leighton, at her residence, 2017 Massachusetts avenue, on Thursday evening. The decorations were all in blue and white, the national colors of the Argentine Republic. Mounds of forget-me-nots and white lilies adorned the table. The scheme of color was carried out in the candles and shades, which were of the azure tint. The name cards were tiny flags of white and blue silk. Mrs. Leighton wore a gown of violet velvet and erpe, garlanded with blooms of heliotrope. The menu was very elaborate.

The Oolah Euchre Club were entertained by Miss Hodges, of New York avenue, on Thursday evening. The ladies' first prize was won by Miss Florin Hodges, the gentlemen's first prize by Albion Morsell, after which a bountiful supper was served, and dancing was indulged in until a late hour. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Morsell, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Topham, Misses Clara Quig, Flora Hodges, Flora Kirkpatrick, Sarah Keigan, Maud McSwen, Bertie Hodges, Blanch Hodges, and Marie Epping, and Messrs. Will Hodges, Capt. Raymond, Will Gieskin, Billie Taylor, Edward Moores, and Walter Harrison.

Mrs. Howard G. White received a throng of callers at her Thursday reception. In the softly beautiful light from the Moorish lamps and shaded chandeliers the place seemed like one of enchantment. The music was a string band playing delightful melodies during the whole afternoon. Mrs. White wore a lovely costume of rich white satin, embroidered in pearls, with corsage bouquet of roses. Mrs. Edward McCauley and the Misses Preston were in the drawing-room assisting the hostess, and Miss Sherrill presided in the dining-room.

In the cabinet circle everything was very quiet during the week. Mrs. Noble was unable, owing to indisposition, to be in her drawing-room on Wednesday afternoon. The Misses Halstead entertained the callers, Miss Halstead presiding at the pretty tea table, while Margaret Halstead greeted the arriving guests. The Misses Windom are visiting friends in Baltimore. Mrs. Windom did not receive on Thursday. Mrs. and Miss Miller were at home informally on Wednesday afternoon and had a great number of callers.

A card party was given last evening at 1298 I street, the residence of Dr. M. F. Finley, in honor of Lieut. John P. Finley, of the Army, a brother of the Doctor's. Lieut. Finley is in charge of the Signal Service interests in New England, with headquarters at Boston. Among those present were Capt. Catlin and wife, of the Army; Mrs. L. P. Heaven, the authoress; the Misses Heaven, Miss McTierney, of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. McKnew, and Mr. and Mrs. Ashford. Elaborate refreshments were served. The ladies and gentlemen were presented with bouquets of flowers.

Mrs. Hearst held a crowded reception on Thursday, many making their party calls. She wore a reception robe of black and dull red brocade, trimmed with black lace. Her assistants, Miss Bayard, in white erpe; Miss Hillyer, in red cloth, and Miss Biddle in white lace, were most attentive and capable in entertaining the guests. A collation perfect in every detail, was served in the supper-room down stairs. The table was adorned with jonquills.

Miss Leta Reed, No. 6 Iowa Circle, daughter of Capt. Reed, of the Army, entertained a number of her young friends on Wednesday evening at a party in celebration of her ninth birthday. Dancing and games were highly enjoyed by the young guests. At 9 o'clock, refreshments were served in the dining-room from a prettily flower-decked table, the centre piece of which was the birthday cake adorned with candles.

The Nonpareil Amateur Dramatic and Musical Club met at usual last Tuesday, and after reading the constitution and by-laws and routine business, decided on changing the name of the club to that of "Lotus." It will be hereafter known as the "Lotus Amateur Dramatic and Musical Club." There was a good attendance last Tuesday. Two popular charities have already engaged the services of the club.

Mrs. John Thompson and Miss Thompson 1415 Q street, concluded their series of receptions on Wednesday, when they received a number of callers. Among the ladies assisting were Mrs. Dr. Crenshaw, Jr., Miss Crenshaw, Miss Laurant, Miss Kirby, Miss Walsh, Miss Bockock, and the Misses Campbell.

Hon. J. N. Pidcock, ex-Representative in Congress from New Jersey, and wife have returned to Washington after a winter's sojourn in the South, and are stopping for a few weeks with Mrs. Pidcock's mother, Mrs. Gray, 714 Eleventh street, prior to their departure for their home in New Jersey.

Mrs. Hildrup and Mrs. Nordhoff were engaged during the week in making the final arrangements for the presentation of the "Ben Hur" tableaux, to be given after Easter for the benefit of the Homeopathic Hospital.

Commander William Bainbridge Hoff has issued cards for a reception and dance, to come off at the Navy-Yard, on board the United States steamer Dale, April 11, from 4 to 7.

A large and fashionable audience attended the amateur theatrical performance on Thursday evening, at the Rifles' Armory. The entertainment was given for the benefit of the Emergency Hospital. The performers who acquitted themselves with great credit were Mrs. Howe, Miss Berry, Mr. Cropper, and Mr. Selfridge. Miss Nellie Hunt sang charmingly and was loudly cheered, to which she most amiably responded.

Miss Bessie Young, daughter of Capt. D. J. Young, of 1313 Corcoran street, Monday evening gave an impromptu dancing party that was very enjoyable. This young lady will "bud" into bloom in society next season.

Mrs. Frank Milliken, of 1423 Q street, has been seriously ill during the past week.

Mrs. Dr. Bullock, who has been ill since early in the winter, is still unable to go out.

Mrs. Charles M. Foulke has concluded her Saturday receptions for the season.

The Concordia Social Club will give an informal hop Tuesday evening.

Mr. Joseph Nimmo, Jr., has gone to Boston for a short visit.

Miss Helen I. Ohl left for Cape May Point Wednesday.

Mrs. R. H. Hollings is at 1332 Massachusetts avenue.

A Story of a King.

The kings of the old countries will not shine forth more radiantly and brilliantly than will our King, of King's Palace, on Tuesday and Wednesday, April 1 and 2, at his grand spring and Easter opening of millinery, wraps, and dry goods. All the latest Parisian and English pattern hats and bonnets and all the novelties in the millinery line will be placed before the public. They have now more spacious quarters, having leased the adjoining premises and converted the two stores into one mammoth establishment, four times its original size, covering a space of twenty thousand square feet, all on the ground floor. With this great improvement Mr. King has added the following new departments: Dry goods, ladies' furnishings, hosiery, jewelry, kid gloves, corsets, fancy goods, gents' furnishings, and notions.

King's Palace, 812-814 Seventh street northwest, is a great palatial mercantile establishment; it is the largest millinery and cloak establishment of this city, and now, owing to its vast increase of trade, is undergoing the process of enlargement and adding the above new departments to meet the requirements of their patrons. Mr. H. King, Jr., is one of the best known and most popular merchants of this city. Seeing the need of a first-class millinery establishment in 1894 he opened out in this line and met with the patronage of the best circles of the public, developing a great and growing trade which necessitated removal in 1897 to his present quarters to secure increased facilities. He enlarged it in 1888. Rapid growth of trade and new departments, dry goods, etc., have compelled the King of King's Palace to again enlarge his present quarters by leasing the adjoining premises and converting the two stores, 812 and 814 Seventh street, into one mammoth double store.

Mr. King's openings at the beginning of each season are attended by the leaders of fashion and the correct styles emanating from there are copied extensively, and his grand openings on Tuesday and Wednesday, April 1 and 2, will more than bear out the good reputation already established. Their establishment now compares favorably with any large establishment in this country. It is one of the largest department stores in this city, having a frontage of 70 feet, with a depth of 220, extending from Seventh to Eighth street. Remember King's Palace grand opening of millinery, wraps, and dry goods on Tuesday and Wednesday, April 1 and 2, as it will be the social event of the season.

TOWN TALK.

A bill was introduced into the Senate last week by Mr. Morrill for the regulation of dentistry in the District. It provides for the appointment of a board of dentists, to consist of five graduates of reputable dental colleges, residents of and for three years preceding appointment engaged in practicing dentistry in the District. They are to hold office for five years. They will examine all applicants for the right to practice dentistry, and report their names to the Health Officer. Every person now practicing dentistry is required to appear before this board. One dollar may be charged for each certificate by the board and $20 for each examination. The compensation of the members of the board shall be fixed by the Commissioners.

The attention of the ladies is specially invited to the spring opening of imported hats and bonnets, on Tuesday and Wednesday next, April 1 and 2, at Mrs. T. B. Harrison's, 1329 F street. All the latest and most stylish fashions will be there on exhibition.

Collector Davis thinks House bill No. 7063 for the more effectual collection of taxes in the District is a good one, and that it will remove the inconsistencies of the present law, and calculated to meet all requirements.

Flannel shirtwaists in all colors, 50c.; worth $1.25. Eisenman Bros., 7th and E.

The Washington Continentals, Capt. W. W. Mills, are making extensive arrangements for their annual dancing party, Easter Monday evening, at Washington Hall, East Washington. The Continentals have lately been reorganized, and are now for the first time in several years in a good, substantial position.

Have you struck the new trick in illusion now going the rounds? If you haven't, here it is. Take two pieces of paper, and cut them either oblong or semi-circular, exactly alike. Place one above the other on a table and tell which is the longest. It is very deceiving.

Mark H. Green, an old and efficient police officer, died at his home on the Conduit road Thursday night, after a brief illness.

A new athletic club has been formed in this city composed of business men and called the Olympians. The officers are J. H. McCormick, Captain; Dr. Fred. Reh, First Lieutenant, and E. D. Brown, Second Lieutenant. The club gave an entertainment at Edie's Hall Thursday night. Boxing and club-swinging were the leading features.

William Chew, the colored man who was stabbed Tuesday night by James Hill, is lying at Freedman's Hospital in a very critical condition.

An invitation has been issued by the foreign delegates to the Pan-American Conference to a dinner to be given in honor of the President April 16.

Onondago Tribe No. 10, Improved Order of Red Men, gave a very successful banquet at Bunch's Hall, Eighth street, Thursday night.

No doubt hundreds of ladies will visit Mrs. M. J. Hunt's exhibit Monday, March 31, and during the week. Her importation of trimmed bonnets and round hats from the leading milliners of Paris, with those of her own make, in all form the largest and choicest collection she has ever shown.

A largely attended entertainment and hop were given at Edie's Hall Wednesday evening by the Washington Argo Literary Association.

"A Business Man's View of the Gospel" is the subject of an address to be delivered this evening at Congregational Church by Representative Elijah A. Morse, of Massachusetts.

The well-known confectioner, Mr. Martin Hehner, was injured on Friday by jumping from his wagon during a runaway on Ninth street.

Mr. G. Warfield Simpson wants THE HERALD to tell his readers that he is making up the black and blue English diagonal cutaway coats and vests, flat-braided, for $25, and Prince Alberts of the same for $30. Mr. Simpson's pricing stock on Monday and Tuesday, and the guarantees satisfaction. You could not do better than to leave the order for your spring suit with him, corner Ninth and G streets northwest.

On Thursday morning, Otto Heilmueller, a life insurance broker, killed a dog belonging to a poor man named Russell. Russell had Heilmueller arrested, and he was released under personal bonds. He then took an axe and went to the house and proceeded to make firewood of the furniture. He was again arrested, and is awaiting trial charged with housebreaking.

The Washington Grain Exchange has filed a certificate of incorporation with the recorder.

Mr. Sol Minster has returned home after a very pleasant stay of three weeks in New York.

Col. D. Davidson, of Clarkburg, W. Va., is in the city, a guest at the National.

One of the social events of the season will be the grand Easter display of millinery and fancy goods to be shown at the National Bazar, of Washington Square, where all the correct styles will be displayed, and any of our lady readers desiring to have a stylish, neat, and nobby hat or bonnet should not fail to attend their grand display on opening on Monday and Tuesday next. Mr. E. A. Stiebel, the proprietor, has increased his facilities, and is now prepared to show to his patrons all the beauty that art and skill can devise in the millinery and fancy goods lines.

The Argo literary Club gave a very elegant dramatic entertainment at Edie's Hall Wednesday evening.

Rev. R. S. Laws, pastor of the Virginia-avenue Baptist Church, was in the Police Court yesterday, charged with having violated the law in failing to report a marriage to the Health Officer. Rev. Mr. Laws was released on personal bonds.

Cornelius Driscoll, a paver, was killed by an engine on the Baltimore and Potomac Railroad, just below the Sixth-street station, on Friday. Driscoll was careless, and did not heed a warning to get out of the way of the engine until too late.

C. O. Mailoux and wife, and Mrs. Charles J. Lawler, New York, are among the arrivals at the Langham to-day.

A fire which burned the frame houses No. 1000 and 1011 K street southwest, early Friday morning, caused the death of Richard Hoynes, owner of the latter dwelling. Hoynes was displaced and lived alone since the death of his wife, a year ago. House No. 1000 was occupied by the family of Patrick Hurley, all of whom escaped. The charred remains of Hoynes were found in the embers.

The handsome light-weight overcoats in the city are to be had at Eisenman Bros., 7th and E, manufacturing clothing and tailors.

No doubt hundreds of ladies will visit Miss Gussie's millinery parlors this week to select their Easter hats and bonnets, of which she has a most beautiful assortment.

A Signal Service bulletin says that Friday was the warmest 28th of March on record in Maryland and northern portions of Virginia and North Carolina.

This is Palm Sunday, which is marked by special services in the Catholic and Episcopal churches.

One of the oldest citizens of Washington died on Thursday in the person of Mr. Curtis Burr Graham. He was in his seventy-sixth year and came here from New York in 1839. Mr. Graham was a member of the oldest Irish club in this city, which organization attended his funeral yesterday afternoon.

Among the many shopping places in our city none compares more favorably or is more popular with the ladies than Baum's popular shopping place, which is located in the old building at 515 Eleventh street. This popular establishment is thronged daily with ladies buying spring goods, knowing when visiting this bureau of fashion they can have their wants gratified, as everything that adorns the fair sex can be found there. One should not fail to visit Baum's this week, as they are making a special showing, as will be seen in another column, of fine Easter millinery and dress silks. The prices are exceptionally low, and in order to secure bargains all should pay an early visit to this bureau of fashion.

Mrs. Mary V. Burrows formerly lived at 905 N street, but recently moved to other quarters. On leaving she forgot to take away a portable hat-rack and umbrella stand. On Thursday, when she went to the place and carted it off, the Row tenant, Elton Myers, resented the intrusion and had Mrs. Burrows arrested for larceny. On hearing the facts, Judge Miller directed the release of the prisoner.

Father Boyle Not Guilty.

RALPHIGH, N. C., March 29.—The second trial of Father Boyle, the Catholic priest, ended tonight in his acquittal. Judge Macrae instructed the jury that they could bring in a verdict of guilty of open assault with intent to commit rape, but a verdict of not guilty was reached at 11:45 to-night. Boyle was at once discharged. He has been in jail here for ten months.

A Child-Raper Hung Up.

BIRMINGHAM, ALA., March 29.—A special to the Age-Herald from Stanton, Ala., tells how Frank Griffin, a negro, raped two little school-girls, one nine and the other four years old. He was caught and hung to a dogwood tree. The smallest girl will die of her injuries.

EASTER GLOVES PERRY'S.

At this time, with Easter but a week in the distance, what plays a more important part in your requirements than GLOVES? The shades and tints this season are indescribably elegant. The line of colors that the dress designers laid out has been followed by the glove-makers, so you can match, without difficulty and to perfection, your gown, whatever it may be.

Take the brands we carry. You will find them thoroughly reliable, and prices to suit you.

"BIARRITZ" SUEDES—In tans or grays, 6-button lengths. Our price is 50 cents.

"BIARRITZ" DRESSED KID—Same price, same lengths. Come in blacks, too.

"EMPRESS"—4-button Dressed Kid. Spring tans, $1, and let us do the fitting.

OUR "FAVORITE"—Something pretty nice, you can depend on that, 4-button suedes, tans, and grays, $1.

"TROUVILLE"—(Real kid.) Tans and black, 4-button. $1.25.

"WINDSOR"—Modes, with handsomely decorated backs, 4-buttons. $1.50.

A 4-button SPAN POINT CRAVEN TAN at $1.50. Just the thing for your equestrian use.

"TRIFOUSSIE" SUDE—Black, with plain backs, 4-buttons. $1.50.

"FLEURY"—8-button mousquetaire suede, tan and gray, lock-stitch. $1.50.

8-BUTTON MOUSQUETAIRE SUEDES—In modes, tans, grays, green-Effel, red, and black. Perfect in their fit; so are all our gloves, and only $2.

P. CENTIMIERI & CO., one of the most noted of glove-making firms, intrust us with the sole distribution of their goods in this vicinity. You ought to wear Centimieri's gloves. You would like the cut of them, the wear, and the price.

We have had our patience sorely tried waiting, but at last they are here—the 10-button length MOUSQUETAIRE SUEDES of Centimieri's make in the spring tans at $1.75—a rich glove.

The fabric gloves are wearable now, and we start our line in at 25 cents. Black Taffeta—three fourths pure silk—and full length.

At the same price—25 cents—six-button length, a fine LISLE THREAD—in grays and tans.

A guaranteed fast black TAFFETA, 6-buttons, 37. The quality here is something extraordinary; so is the color. It is positive.

BLACK AND COLORED TAFFETAS—Shaped like kid, with narrow stitching. 50 cents. WARRANTED.

ALL SILK JERSEY fitting gloves, extra lengths, sure enough black, light weight. 50 cents.

All the becoming shades in tans, gray, and mode, in most reliable qualities of PURE SILK. 75 cents.

BLACK AND COLORED MILANESE SILK—Jersey fitting, kid style, nearly embroidered back, perfect finish, six-button length, $1, and our word with them.

TRIPLE MILANESE BLACK SILK GLOVES. English imports, plain backs, extra heavily tipped fingers, fitting for wear. $1.25.

Of course the Misses must be "gloved." The same questions arise—how? What is proper? The answer:

PURE SILK JERSEY-FITTING GLOVES—In tan, 4-button long, with stitched backs. 50c.

SUPER LISLE JERSEY GLOVES—Tans and modes, 4-button. 20c.

4-BUTTON UNDRESSED KID GLOVES—In tans. 85c., but a regular $1.25 grade.

4-BUTTON DRESSED KID—The new shades, and to be sure the popular ones. $1 fitted.

8-BUTTON LENGTH SUDE MOUSQUETAIRE—The spring shades, narrow stitching, warranted. $1.50.

Any of those will satisfactorily solve the questions.

The men do not have many flights of fashion to provide for. Two or three lines carry all that they are required to have to be correct.

ENGLISH TAN SHADES—in dogskins, at $1. DRESSY STITCHED, at $1.50.

UNDRESSED KID—in tans and kindred shades. $1.75.

There you are now. Is there a taste, a fancy, or a thought we do not meet? And the quality is the strong point. We will not keep gloves but are the least bit doubtful in character. They must be POSITIVE or they cannot have part with our stock. We are attentive, too, to seeing that you get WHAT YOU WANT. This week will be a busy one in gloves, but we can serve you whenever you come.

The Death of Mr. J. W. P. Myers. The funeral of Mr. J. W. P. Myers, whose death occurred on Thursday evening, will take place this afternoon from his late residence, 1810 Thirteenth street. The interment will be at Oak Hill. Mr. Myers was one of the pioneer real estate men of the District, and in business circles was held in the highest esteem. He was prominently connected with many of our leading institutions. His charities were numerous, and those who received them never knew their benefactor. He was a most devoted husband, a kind and indulgent father, and a true friend. Mr. Myers leaves a wife, three children, and several grandchildren, who have the sincere sympathy of a large circle of friends.
